

ATHLETICO

PHYSICAL THERAPY

March 3, 2014

Ms. Ellen Satlof
Youth Sports Safety Alliance
National Athletic Trainers Association
1620 Valwood Pkwy Suite 115
Carrollton, TX 75006

Ms. Satlof,

Athletico Physical Therapy pledges our support to the Youth Sports Safety Alliance.

We feel that the Youth Sports Safety Alliance is aligned with our core purpose which is to help people enhance their health and quality of life. In addition, Athletico's core values of Patient/Client Satisfaction, Accountability, Continuous Improvement, and Teamwork also support the call to action which includes elements of research, education, and safety.

Athletico was founded on the basis of athletic training in 1991. Our growth has been based on the dedication of our founder, Mark Kaufman, PT/ATC, which has been replicated by our current department of over 210 certified athletic trainers in the states of Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin. Our athletic training services include an extensive network of medical professionals, clubs, high schools, colleges, and professional franchises that we work with on a daily basis. Together we support and live the Youth Sports Safety Alliance's call to action. I am confident that with our growth will come more opportunities for certified athletic trainers to educate the community on the importance of research, education, and safety in athletics.

Thank you for your time and consideration of Athletico. We are honored to be an active participant with the Youth Sports Safety Alliance and look forward to what the future may hold for the partners of this venture.

Sincerely,

Jason Bannack, MS, ATC
Director of Athletic Training Services
Athletico Physical Therapy
625 Enterprise Drive
Oak Brook, IL 60523
jbannack@athletico.com
630.575.6211
@Illibuck1

Official Partner of Physical Therapy

